Judge Dale of Wichita Says Tiger Bill is Guiltless.

That the Trouble Was With the Attorney General at Topeka.

CAMPBELL WAS TOLD

To Accept Attorney Fees and Dismiss Liquor Cases.

The Assistant Attorney's Honesty Not Questioned.

Wichita, Feb. 10 .- Assistant Attorney General W. P. Campbell was acquitted at exactly eight minutes before 6 o'cluck in the district court Saturday evening. He was accessed in disbarment proceedings of obtaining fees illegally in consideration of dismissing prosecutions under the prohibitory law. .
In announcing his decision Judge

Dale took occasion to severely score Attorney General Dawes:

tee for the work they had done and the disagreeable task they had to perform. He hoped that during his four years of office he would not have anything else so disagreeable as it. With this intro-duction he announced that the proscution had utterly failed to make a case against Judge Campbell. He referred Mr. Stanley's argument concerning the character of Judge Campbell for honesty and integrity and also the precedent spoken of as dangerous. "That is the question exactly," he said, "and Mr. Stanley asks where we are at. are at a point that we must elect an attorney general that knows the law and is competent to advise on it. trouble is not with Judge Campball, it is up at Topeka. He then said that the advice of the attorney general given to the request of Judge Campbell settled the question of motive. He did not consider nor did the evidence justify the conclusion that Judge Campbell's action in taking fees under the circumstances as shown was wilfully corrupt or know ingly was illegal and nothing was left him to do but to acquit the accused. He said, however, that the practice of taking attorneys' fees in cases dismissed would not be tolerated in his court no matter whether the attorney general advised such a course or not and that he would hold to that rule until he was reversed by a higher court than his.

His wife and sister, Mrs. McArthur of Jacksonville, 141., ported his weak body through the ordeal After being sentenced Colean submitted a written statement, the only one made since his arrest. It was this:

"Judge, I wish to tell you the truth. I understand some people believe me to have means. I state to you such is not the case. My family and I are absolutely penniless in the money sense. I have wronged my friends and family, but I assure you my intentions were never to wrong any man. I trust I have done some good in this world in the past, and should my life be spared I shall try to improve the future.

ON THE BANKS OF THE NILE Stands the Oldest Obelisk, Constructed

Thousands of Years Ago.

From the Pall Mail Gazette: The oldest of all the obelisks is the beautiful one of rosy granite which stands alone among the green fields on the banks of the Nile not far from Cairo. It is the gravestone of a great city which has vanished and only left this relic behind. That city was Bethshemes of the scripture, the famous On, which is memorable to all Bible readers as the residence of the priest of On. Potipherah, whose daughter Asenath Joseph married. The Greeks call it Heliopolis, the city of the sun, because there the worship of the sun had its chief center and its most sacred shrine. It was the seat of the most ancient university of the world, to which youthful students came from all parts of the world to learn the occult wisdom which the priests of On alone could teach. Thales, Solon, Eudoxus, Pythagoras and Plato all studied there; perhaps Moses, too. It was also the birthplace of the sacred literature of Egypt, where were written on papyrus leaves the original chapter of the oldest book in the world, generally known as "The Book of the Dead," giving a most striking account of the conflicts and triumphs of the life after death, a whole copy or fragment of which every Egyptian, rich or poor, wished to have buried with him in his coffin, and portions of which are found inscribed on every mummy case and on the walls of every tomb. In front of one of the principal temples of the sun, in this magnificent city, stood, along with a companion, long since destroyed, the solitary obelisk which we now behold on the spot. It alone has survived the wreck of all the glory of the place. It was constructed by Usertesen I., who

Dan Stuart Says the Fight Will Come Off.

Wiseacres Predict It Will Be Pulled Off on Alexander's Ranch,

A 4,000-ACRE ESTATE.

The Edison Kinetoscope Company Have Five Operators.

Lots of Maher Money Will Be at the Ring.

Et Paso, Feb. 10.-The Maher-Fitzsimmons fight will take place on the estate of Dr. Alexander, a retired United States army surgeon, who has one of the finest grape vineyards in Mexico, located four miles from El Paso is the latest tip. The estate consists of 4,000 scres of land in a body. Part of it is located on the disputed international boundary line, and is not yet under the jurisdiction of either Mexico or the United States.

Dr. Alexander is not only willing that the fight should come off on his property but his eldest son is a business partner of Dan A. Stuart on the board of trade at Dallas, where the stock, bond, cotton and produce market quotations of the world are posted.

Dan A. Stuart has sent this telegram from El Paso to W. G. Crush, general passenger agent of the Missouri, Kaussa and Texas Railroad company at Dallas:
"There is no change in my programme. The Maher-Fitzsimmons con test will positively take place on the morning of February 14." Mr. Crush said: "That settles it. I'll SOLDIERS INDIGNANT. If They Die in the California Home They Are Dissected.

San Francisco, Feb. 8 .- Several members of the Grand Army have received communications from the solhome at Yountville expressing great indignation at the treatment to which the bodies of soldiers who die in the institution are subject. The feeling was aroused by a paragraph in the last annual report of the home, and it has been increased by recent developments. Following is a copy of a letter received by a G. A. R. official in this city: VETERAN'S HOME, YOUNTVILLE.

Jan. 31. Much indignation exists here about the bodies of old soldiers, members of the home, being mutilated and dismembered for the benefit of doctors and medical students.

In his last annual report, dated June 30, 1895, Dr. W. F. McAilister says: "Sixteen autopsies have been held during the year, and from this date on autopsies will be held and a history of each case will be carefully recorded of all who die at the home."

This report was accepted, approved and printed by the directors, who have lately, to facilitate this and other matters, appointed three other doctors—a visiting physician, an esr, eye and throat specialist, and a young sesistant surgeon. Some of the old vets have left and others will leave on account of this unlawful and outrageous treatment of our dead. The attention of relatives, the Grand Army who founded this home, the peo ple who support it with their taxes, and the law officers of the Government is called to this degradation of the bodies of the heroes who fought to save our Disastrous Results of an Innovation in a Lodge Ceremony.

From the Portland Oregonian: The

little black mule which is seen on the streets very frequently with children en his back has attained quite a reputation among the various east side lodges during the past few weeks. It is generally supposed that all candidates "ride the goat" when initiated in secret organizations, but it has been a bad year for goats, and some of the lcdges have been in the habit of borrowing this mule instead and giving the candidate a ride around the hall on its back. On one occasion, a few evenings ago, it is reported, the initiatory cereenitentiary for a term not exceeding mony came to grief. The candidate had been blindfolded, so it is related, in the anteroom, and then brought into the lodgeroom, where he was mounted on the mule. The guide was immediately in the rear, while the mule was being led by one of the brothers. Several others were near at hand on either side. The procession approached the chair of the presiding officer. Suddenly the mule stopped and refused to go forward. No amount of pulling and urging could get him to budge. Finally one of the brethren teld the guide to twist the mule's tall. The guide never had any experience with twisting mules' tails, or he would have declined them and the girl had left before their to do so, but, being ignorant of the mule nature to resent such indignity, he promptly seized the rather short caudal appendage and gave a twist. The mule was a little surprised, but, quickly recovering, let fly both feet, lifting the The offender nearly to the ceiling. mule plunged forward toward the chair | ing, and touched briefly on his mission to didate still clinging to the saddle for dear life. The presiding officer managed to jump out of the way. From here the animal made for the secretary, who dodged under the table. His head was now turned down the hall, and away he went, over chairs and members, whom he knocked down in every direction. The candidate by this time had fallen from the mulb's back. Around and around the mule flew until the hall was in the wildest state of confusion, everybody trying to catch the mule, which made several almost successful efforts to plunge out of a window into the street below. Finally, in making a turn in one corner of the hall, the mule fell, and a dozen men piled on top of him and held him firm. He was taken downstairs by one of the brothers and led home. After order was restored the candidate was permitted to sign the constitution and become a member without further ceremonies. A motion was passed to the effect that any member divulging the unhog receipts. Offerings were light howhappy event of the evening should be expelled from the lodge without reever, and some recovery ensued. course. But most of the members are married and told their wives. Then the secret leaked out. All other lodges having occasion to use the mule will be careful not to twist his tail at any time during the ceremonies.

CHICAGO MARKET LETTER.

Fornished by Topeka Grain and Stock Egchange, 526 Kansas Avenue,

Wheat-There was an easier tone to cables this morning, and as a consequence an easier opening in wheat and lower prices were scored than had been looked for. The news was favorable to higher prices, but there was heavy realizing, and though it was a bitter dose, the bulls took their medicine meekly. Late cables were stronger and higher, however, and when a break to 65% for May wheat occurred about noon, there was heavy buying, both against puts and for long account. Receipts in the northwest were larger than expected and estimated cars for tomorrow somewhat of a sur-prise here. The worlds visible supply for the month of January is reported to have decreased twenty-one million bushels. This is a good break and we advise clients to buy on soft

Corn and oats were quiet and featureless, sharing fluctuations in wheat. Provisions had another set back at the opening, but the decline was small and was met with good buying of May pork.
